This week the assembly will be hosted by 3/4JR Miss Clowes/Woods
Everyone is invited to attend - Friday 10am.

4/5A have been creating their own avatars with Ms Bee in Technology class. They take their portrait with the in-built laptop camera. Then manipulating in Photoshop. Next week they will be creating animated gifs!
Can you guess who is who?
Dear Families,
Welcome to Sam (5/6 T) and his family who started at our school this week.

Congratulations to Eddie T and Blake who were successful in gaining selection in the Brunswick Valley Rugby Union Team which will travel to Far North Coast trials in the upcoming weeks. Good luck also to the school Rugby 7’s team who are playing in the next stage of their Knock out competition today.

Often in schools wet weather lunch times are something that students and teachers dread as it is hard to keep students dry and students get bored as they cram into undercover areas. I was in the playground at our school during a heavy storm last week and what a contrast to this typical picture it was . There was an undercover dance area with music, passive play toys and drawing on the stage as well as games, reading and construction in the library. There was an excited and happy buzz amongst the students. The teachers do extra duties each week to make these opportunities for play available and it is paying off with a lovely playground atmosphere.

Next week the students from our school will sit NAPLAN tests. We use the data from these tests to inform our teaching and get a general picture about where students are performing. The tests are only one part of an overall assessment program carried out by teachers and whilst we want students to do their best they should not feel any pressure about the process. We will be reinforcing this message at school.

Each year our school has a school plan which outlines the areas we want to focus on and drives what we develop on a day to day basis. We are establishing an Aboriginal Education Team and a Creative and Practical Arts Team to support the development of a range of exciting projects outlined in our school plan. The Aboriginal Education Team will to gather more input from our Indigenous families to develop projects like building the way we celebrate and recognise Reconciliation Week and NAIDOC week, revising the way we complete Personalised Learning Plans for Indigenous students and incorporating more local content into the Aboriginal Perspectives we teach in all our units in the classroom. The CAPA team will start with establishing a working model to build an artist collective from our community to provide authentic arts experiences to students. If you are interested in being an either of these teams just let your classroom teacher know or call Andrea in the office.

It has been great to see so many students reading Premiers Reading Challenge books at home. The Student Representative Council is having their Term 2 fund-raiser in the form of a disco - you’re all invited. There is no theme with free dress for the evening, check out this groover from a previous disco.

STAFF PROFILE
Jennah Browning
Aboriginal SLSO

Jennah is enjoying her second year at BHPS. When she is not at school she is busily running around after her own 3 daughters - a lot of soccer and jazz/ballet. Something you may now know is that Jennah was quite athletic as a child and even played touch football at state level. Jennah loves singing, swimming, dancing and hanging with her family and friends. Jennah was part of the winning parents & teachers swim team to beat the Yr 6s.
